Campaign for Curran Sitkuts] (hereinafter "we"), an election campaign registered at Toronto ON, under whose registered office is located at 516 Yonge St, Toronto ON, M4Y 1X9, is committed to respecting the applicable regulations on the protection of personal data (any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person) in place, and in particular the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation (EU Regulation 2016/679), the "GDPR" (hereinafter collectively the "Applicable Regulation").

In the context of the online petition, online form or online survey (hereinafter the “Forms”) that you («you») are about to sign and fill, you are transmitting personal data to us, which we will process. The purpose of this information notice, which we recommend taking the time to read carefully, is to inform you of the terms and conditions of the resulting processing and the rights you have in relation to this processing.

For what reason(s) is your personal data being collected?

The purpose of the processing is the main objective of the use of your personal data.

The purpose of processing is to keep you informed of the Campaign for Curran Stikuts, volunteer opportunities, and election news. It is also, depending on the boxes you tick when validating your support:

- to be able to send you information related to the Forms (objective reached, actions implemented, feedback, practical information etc.)
- to be able to send you our newsletter and/or any other communications about our campaign.

What personal data do we collect?

In order to process your Forms, we collect the following data:
Some of the fields are mandatory, some are optional as it appears on the website.

- Your email address;
- Your telephone number
- Your first and last name;
- Your postal code and address;

The personal data required in order to process your participation in/signing of the Forms are indicated on the form. If you do not provide this data, you acknowledge that we will not be able to take your participation in the Forms into account.

We collect the following data in order to send you our newsletter and/or any other marketing and commercial communications about our campaign:

- Email Address

On what basis is your personal data collected ?

The legal basis for our processing of your data is:

- the pursuit of our legitimate interest in the management of the Forms and the prevention of attempted multiple signatures or multiple input of information in the management of forms; and/or
- your consent to the processing of your personal data for certain purposes. You may withdraw this consent at any time.

Who can access your personal data?

Personal data can only be accessed by those of our team members who have been authorized to process it by virtue of their position; the latter are subject to an obligation of confidentiality and are aware of the processing of personal data.

This data may also be communicated to some of our service providers, in the sole case where such communication is necessary for the performance of their services (in particular and for example, to the company Dolphins SAS, which allows via its platform Qomon the creation and the on-line hosting of the Forms), and provided that they offer the necessary guarantees for the respect of the security and confidentiality of your data.

Finally, we may be obliged to transmit personal data at the request of judicial authorities or, more generally, if a legal or regulatory provision requires us to do so.

Where is your personal data stored?

Some of the information we collect is stored directly on your device (for example, your preferences and session data necessary for the proper functioning of the application).

Other information is transmitted to and stored on our secure servers locatein the United States . Please check our Privacy Policy to verify the most up-to-date server location. This storage is necessary to provide the service and to ensure the proper functioning of the platform and the App.

How long do we retain your personal data for ?

In accordance with the Applicable Regulations, your personal data is retained for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which it is collected and processed and/or for as long as is necessary for us to fulfill our legal and regulatory obligations.

What are your rights in relation to this personal data and how can you exercise them?

In accordance with the Applicable Regulations, you have the following rights in relation to the data processing completed by us:

- right of access: the right to obtain confirmation of the personal data processed and, where appropriate, to have access to/receive a copy of your personal data ;

- right of rectification: the right to modify or rectify your inaccurate or incomplete personal data ;

- right of erasure: the right to request the erasure of all your personal data if there is no legitimate reason to continue processing this data, with the exception of data necessary for the performance of a legal obligation;

- right to restrict processing: the right to request the restriction of the processing (not to use or process the data) of your personal data in the event that you contest the accuracy of the data or object to the processing of the data, while your request is being processed ;

- right to portability: the right to move, copy or transmit your data from one database to another, where processing is carried out by automated means ;

- the right to organize what happens to your data post-mortem: the right to define directives concerning the conservation, deletion or communication of your data, applicable after your death.
